

Sources for Gluten-Free Products

These companies produce several GF items. Some have mail-order sales, while other will furnish the name and address of a local vendor. Contact each company and request a catalog of their GF products. The quality will range from plain GF food to gourmet quality. Those gourmet items will become a staple for the entire family. Products are often exported to other countries to meet the demand for GF products. Remember to investigate each company's ability to deliver a product free of all offending grains.

Several Celiac Societies annually publish a list of GF foods. Their address is listed in this site's list of support groups.

As a service to our members, companies with GF products may post a short ad to the List on the first day of each month. The guidelines are available in the reference file: ADS

The FDA started a program for the protection of the US food supply in December 2004, Since this will delay shipments into the US from other countries, please do your research at the FDA site FDA www.cfsan.fda.gov/~dms/fsbtac13.html and than with the supplier.

Adults may be interested in the new GF Beers that are available around the world.
